Al-Ghazzali On Love, Longing And Contentment

Synopsis

Al-Ghazzali describes the virtue of love of God and its true nature along with the reasons of love. He explains what longing is, its true nature and how the eye of the Hereafter is not like the eye of this world. He discusses contentment and uses it as a remedy for achieving love, the signs of love and the virtue and true nature of contentment. He concludes by saying that supplication to God is not contradictory to contentment. This is Book XXXIX of Part Four of the Alchemy of Happiness entitled The Deliverers.

This is a very good translation of Al Ghazzali's masterpiece" Alchemy of happiness" or "the revival of religious sciences" I have the original book myself.got this for a friend of mine who said to me the other day "When i start reading the book,i just can't put it down"! May piece be upon Al Ghazzali

Awesome book. Very convincing details of how love works and why it should be directed towards Got Almighty. After I applied this book in my life, it is my experience that once you learn to love God, it starts flowing towards everything God created and you learn to love God's creature unconditionally including your family, relatives, and even those who you don't like in your every day life. This higher form of love is much purer than our everyday selfish love where we love others as long as they fulfill our expectations and stop loving them if they cause us harm.Great book to say the least.

Following intensive research, the purchase of this book has been a part of the process of building a library of Islamic literature, that relates particularly to seeking the path of excellence in spirituality, purification of the heart, ascetism, and an appreciation and understanding of the experiences of those who have followed this very path previously. The goal, God willing, in turn is to be inspired and motivated to seek success in a journey of personal development. Hence, this book is a piece of the puzzle of the big picture. The approach to research has also been to identify and select books that include contributions made by great personalities in Islam, with preference for books written by the personalities themselves, where possible. I have been very pleased with this book. It has been a good purchase.
